SEE THE FUTURE (WEATHER, THAT IS)

Want to know if it will be sunny in Italy the week you've chosen to go next spring?

Weather Trends International, recently named one of Forbes' most promising companies, has launched a website and iPhone app giving consumers access to global weather forecasts for a year. WeatherTrends360.com projects high and low temperatures, as well as precipitation, in more than six million locations, and claims to do so with 80% accuracy. Take that six o'clock news.
